That Last Night in Congress.

The National Era, which hates Slavery first and the Whig party next, and which rarely suffers an opportunity to deal a blow at the latter to pass memorable closing night in Congress in such a cht as to give the impression that only those into Committee, appeals, points of order, &c. &c. and call the Yeas and Navs thereon, were sincerely, or at least inflexibly, devoted to Free Soil. I decidedly object to this view. My own convic tion is very clear that this course increased the dangers of that night and was imminently calculated to give a triumph to Slavery. I do not say it was not well intended on the part of most of those who united in it-I do not judge motivesand yet how could I help suspecting that some motive quite foreign to devotion to Free Soil im pelled Mr. John Pettit to the prominent part he played on that memorable night? When before did he evince such devotion ? It is true, as The Era says, that a general and atrong suspicion prevailed among the Members intent on shielding the New Territories from Slavery that they were betrayed-that a sufficient number of Free State Members were privately pledged to vote with the South, whenever the proper time should arrive, to secure the ultimate adoption of the Walker Amendment. Whether that susp cion was well or ill founded, it were bootless now to inquire. But, acting as we all did in the conviction of its justice, it seemed to me very clear that it became us not to give our suspected asso ciates the pretext we believed them to be waiting an watching for. For instance: Suppose Mr. A, Mr B. Mr. C. Ac. had given private assurances to cer tain friends of the Walker Amendment that they would vote for it, or refrain from voting against it whenever the question should assume a shape which would enable them to justify such a vote to their respective constituencies: Thus pledged, they sat watching the progress of the struggle and the coming of their opportunity. Now could not doubt that any determined, persistent effort of the great mass of the anti-Extensionists to stave off decisive action and break up the Session without passing the General Appropriation bill, would afford the suspected the excuse they were believed to be watching for. They would finally say : ' We, too, are for Free Soil, but not for anarchy and the subversion of the Government-we do not, choose even to subject the country to the turmoil and the cost of an Extra Session. We want the Territories organized and our laws extended over themwe prefer C. B. Smith's or Mr. Webster's plan but, rather than see the wheels of Governmen blocked, we will vote even for Mr. Walker's. And thus I believe the struggle would have ter minated in a triumph of Slavery if the strength of the House had submitted to be led by Mr. Joh Pettit. We might thus have made him a great man, pro tem and sent him home in a blaze of glory, to be reelected by votes never at his service before-but we should have lost the battle and made shipwreck of the good cause. By coming short round on the other tack, we retrieved the fortunes of the day after nearly all had begun to

NEW GOLD WASHER .- It is with us one strong reason for desiring the general and diversified estab lishment of Manufactures in this country that no new branch of industry can be naturalized among us with out insuring a vast improvement in the fitness of its implements and the efficiency of its processes through the concentration thereupon of the matchless ingenuity and inventive talent of our People. The Committee of the Whole took up the bill to smend certain acts concerning Emigrants arriving in New York. The first section of the bill prescribes the mode in which masters of ships shall make their report relative to Emigrants, and imposes a penalty of $75 for every person not reported or falsely reported. The 2d section makes it the duty of the Mayor to require the owner or consignes of a vessel to give bonds to the amount of $300 (7) for each person included in the report, to indemnity the Commissioners of Emigration against any expense that may be incurred by them, and every city, town, County and State, for any cost which the Commissioners may be put to on account of such emigrant within five years from the date of said bond, and for expenses incurred in support of such emigrant accompanying sand is effected by means of reverse currents and besters, which cause the water to flow in one direction while the solid matter is carried the other way—the water passing out over a waste wier. In this way even the flat scales and lighter particles of metal which are inclined to float on the surface are detained, while heavier particles of sand of less specific gravity are discharged by or thrown out on undertows of direct currents. Thus the sand is thrown off, while the gold remains in a groove or cleft at the bottom. By means of this double spparatus, the gold is separated from everything but pebbles with rapidity and remarkable nicety, so that it is believed all the earth of the commissioners from any expense that rated from everything but pebbles with rapidity and remarkable nicety, so that it is believed all the earth hitherto washed in California by means of rockers. Gadau pans and the rude machinery as yet employed there—would yield more gold per day to the hand employed than it yielded to the original washers. It is far within bounds to say that injusty nine hundredths of all the gold contained in a cart-load of earth would be extracted from it on passing rapidly through this Washer. And it is boileved that one man will wash six times as fast with this machine as three can do with those generally in use, giving its owners an advantage of eighteen to one, which its superior execution must largely increase in the net product. Thus very much earth, slightly auriferous, which would not pay for earth, slightly auriferous, which would not pay for the Marine Hospital at a salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at a salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital, at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for the Marine Hospital at salary of $5,000, and 4 as for largely increase in the net product. Thus very mach carth, slightly auriferous, which would not pay for washing by other methods, will yield an ample to the Marine Hospital, at a salary of $6.000, and 4 assistants at a salary of $1.250 each. The duties of the Health Officer are to be confined to the inspection of anone to the gold regions of our Southern States, while vessels and determining of Quarantine.
